fect that the President of the United States has nothing to do but to enjoy himself.

In the Senate the week has passed without profit, and sext week also promises to be barren. The policy of the Administration managers is to do nothing that can be put off until after the election. The House Committee in charge of Oivil Service Reform allows this great measure to sleep, and "temporary" appointments keep alive the old system of patronare, and may keep it alive until the arrangements for the Presidential contest are complete. Annesty its smothered in the Senate under speeches to which nebody listens. The Civil Rights smendment is endangered by the treachery of the professed friends. I have already explained the action of some of the Administration leaders, who, after opposing Civil Rights at the last session, are now supporting the Sumner amendment, in the hope of using it as a sinker to drown the Amnesty bill, against which they will not take the responsibility of voling. There is a prospect that they may have overtranched themselves, for Mr. Sumner's measure gains strongth, and it has at least a chance of passing. ANTI-RING INDICTMENTS.

Much excitement existed around the City Hall and County Court-House on Saturday when it was known that the anti-Ring Grand Jury had submitted 23 fresh indictments, charging frauds on various members of the old Tammany Ring. They were almost the only subject of conversation in the departments, and the most intense anxiety to know who were the new "vic tims of reform persecution" was manifested by those who anticipated bills against themselves.

The Grand Jury at 121 entered the court-room, which was about half filled by a crowd evidently anxious as to revelations to be made. The brief proceedings were listened to in marked silence, even the calling of the roll of the jury being uninterrupted by conversation or other noise. After this formality had been completed. Mr. Comstock, the foreman of the jury, indulged in a brief speech, delivered in a halting manner, to the fol-

Your Honor is aware that we have been acting within the last week or ten days under an act specially passed that legalizes an extension of our term. During that time we have been constantly engaged nearly every day of the week, though laboring under great legal difficulties. I take great pleasure in saying that the law officers have done everything to aid us, and we have reëxamined on them under our extension. We have found it impossible up to the present time to finish all of our business, and we therefore see the necessity for asking a further extension of our time. We suppose that one week would be sufficient. I have just received a note from Gen. Barlow, in which he requests us to ask for two weeks instead of one, and therefore we would ask for two weeks exten-sion, with the understanding that the moment we com-plete our dulies—and we hope that will be in much less time—we shall be, on application, discharged.

Judge Bedford—in reply to your request, your time will be extended for two weeks more; and if before that period you will have completed your duties, on your application, I will discharge you.

The Jury was about to retire, when the Assistant District-Attorney, Mr. Sullivan, called Judge Redford's aton to the fact that he had failed to fix the time for their return to Court, and they were hastily recalled be for they had left the room. Judge Bedford, accepting the hint of Mr. Sullivan, said:

Gentlema, I will say further, that I will meet you two weeks from to-day. Feb. 17. at 12 o'clock.

The Foreman—And, if we give you notice that we are through sooner, you will discharge us f.
Judge Bedford—Yes.

The jury then left the court-room, and, without going to the jury-room, dispersed to their homes. The crowd and the reporters lingered for a few minutes, when, find-ing that the names of those indicted were not to be made the until after the arrests had been made, they to dispersed. Judge Bedford simply announced that there were 23 bills, but whether against 23 persons or not remains to be discovered. Many conjectures were made, and, yesterday, the Sunday papers had each a list of the and, restorally, the Standy Papers, and no one of them was whelly correct. At the request of the Attorney-General The Tribune will not publish any names until the arrests have been made, but it is not improper to state that several of the names given by The Times and The World of yesterday do not appear in the bills, while several prominent persons not mentioned at all, and one of whom are generally suspected of having engaged in the Ring frauds, are undoubtedly indicted.

No arrests were made on Saturday, and the bench warrants will not reach the Sheriff until this morning. Only can't will not reach the Sheriff until this morning. Only one order of arrest was issued by Deputy Sheriff Jarvis, and that was on the suit of Henry W. Genet against Lavi Adams, the principal witness against him. Genet was positive that he was indicted, and loudly asserted his intention to send every person who had sworn against him to the State Prison. He began this labor by getting out the order of arrest alluded to, but the Sheriff declined to make the arrest on Saturday, and Mr. Adams will not be taken in charge until to-day. Mr. Adams has been very active and energetic in exposing the Ring frauds in the building of the Harlem Court-House, not only in the public press, but before the Jury, and the sait of Genet is well understood to be instigated by a spirit of revenge. What his charge against Mr. Adams is no one scemed to know on Saturday. Tom C. Fields, who had come down from Albany, was satisfed that he was indicted, but no other authority for this statement could be obtained, and it was not generally believed to be true. Nathaniel Sands, whose name was given in one list published or Saturday, was positive that he was not indicted. It is understood that he has personally called upon nearly all the members of the Grand Jury at their houses, and believes that they have no intention of indicting him.

The remarks of the foreman thanking the law officers of the county for their assistance in framing the indictments, are understood to have been made by desire of the jury to correct a misapprehension as to the course of District-Attorney Garvin. The idea prevails very generally that Mr. Garvin has been not merely lukewarm in this wore, but that he threw positive obstacles in the way. The Thruths, among other papers, acting upon what it believed to be true information, has helped to convey this wrong impression, and now takes pleasure in saying that injustice was done Mr. Garvin. Ton days ago Mr. Garvin said to Attorney-General Barlow, who has given these cases personal attention, that in "these matters be migh one order of arrest was issued by Dept and that was on the suit of Henry W. Genet against

UTAH. MORMON PROTESTS AGAINST JUDGE M'KEAN-COMPLICATION WITH THE UNITED STATES

MARSHAL. WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 .- Nothing has been received of an official nature lately from Utah in regard to the trials there against the Mormons. A large number of citizens of Utah, however, have, in the most earnest manner, protested to the Government against the con-tinuance of Judge McKean in office, and against his conduct in prosecuting them in what they termed an illegal and oppressive manner. Recently a telegram to this effect was received by the Attorney-General, from Salt Lake City, signed by 100 persons, and covering several sheets of paper. The United States Marshal for the District of Utah is placed in a rather unfortunate position in regard to the trials. Being the subordinate of the United States Judge, he believes himself required to make arrests, summon witnesses, and take such other action as the Judge may direct; but the United States Government has no authority to pay the claims contracted under such orders, and if Congress fails to pass a law reimbursing the Marshal and others who pay out money in these cases, they will have to suffer the loss

POLITICAL NOTES

The thing most troubling the Connecticut Democrats just now is the effort to find a man willing to stand the nomination for Governor. All the "available" men have been solicited, it seems, and no one thus far has been found willing to "face the music."

The Kansas Legislature, Saturday, passed a bill releasing from criminal prosecution witnesses who testify before the Bribery Investigation Committee. A memorial to Congress was adopted also, asking for the admission of Canadian lumber into the United States ree of duty

The New-Hampshire election is held on the 12th of March, and there is a quadrilateral of nominations to be stormed. Beside the regular tickets, the Prohibitionists and Labor Reformers present candidates, and each party is directing its main energies to carry the Legislature, as it is generally agreed that the election will finally be decided in the Legislature.

A towns-man writes to the same journal in which the Collector's letter appeared, that, in conversation with that exem-plary man, some weeks ago, the proposed removal was discussed, and the Collector then declared that the Re-publican party dare not remove him—if it did he would "go back on it" in the Fall campaign, and show how much power he had.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.-A delegation of the plug tobacco manufacturers of Richmond, Va., were atithe Internal Revenue office to-day to see the Com. missioner in relation to the tax on tobacco, and to urge him to use his influence with Congress to secure the passage of a law making the rate of taxation uniform on all kinds of manufactured tobacco, at whatever rate Congress may decide upon. The Commissioner informedithe dele-gation that the office sympathized with them in their request, and favored such a modification of the present law as will meet their desires. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that the Assessors are not entitled to receive commissions on tobacco sent from their districts in bond for export, which is subsequently withdrawn for home consumption and the tax paid.

MUSIC.

THE THIRD PHILHARMONIC CONCEPT.

There was a thin house at the Academy on Saturday evening, and, except at the close of Senor P. Sarasate's recital of the Bruch concerto for the violin, but little enthusiaem. The programme embraced Schu-mann's Symphony No. 4 in D minor; Haydn's aria, "With Verdure Clad;" Bruch's violin concerto; Heinefetter's overture to Macbeth, in C. Major; Donnizetti's aria, "Di qual soavi logrime," from Poliuto; and the Beethoven overture to Leonore, in C major. The Schumann Sym phony isithe last of his finished compositions, and in many respects the best of the four. It is bold and original in harmonic treatment, and in the hands of Mr. Berg mann's carefully trained orchestra is calculated to afford a high gratification to lovers of good music.

The execution of Senor Sarasate in the concerto was very remarkable, and aroused the otherwise undemonstrative audience to manifestations of the liveliest approbation. His style is graceful, expressive, and indicative of a refined taste, and thorough sympathy with hi beautiful art; while his touch is so true and so delicate, and his management of both key-board and bow so skill-ful, that he must be accorded very high rank among violinista.

Mademoiselle Corradi, the soprano of the evening, was not at all satisfactory, and we are rather surprised that she should have been selected by the Directors to fill so rominent a position at concerts which are intended to be not so much occasions for the smusement of the vul-gar, as for the instruction of musical amateurs, and the refinement and elevation of the popular taste.

HORACE GREELEY'S SIXTY-FIRST BIRTH-DAY.

From The New-York World, Feb. 4.

Last evening a unique entertainment was given at the house of Mr. Alvin J. Johnson, No. 323 West Fifty-seventh-st., on the occasion of the sixty-first birthday of the veteran editor of The Tribune, Horace Greeley. One of the largest and most remarkable companies of men and women of letters that has ever been held in New-York was present, representing nearly every profession, and including some of the most notable men and women in the country. It was naturally composed mainly of Mr. Greeley's personal friends, but these comprise an extended circle, and all parts of the Union were represented in the assemblage.

and an paris of the Union were represented in the assemblage.

Early in the evening an elegant dinner was partaken of by a select few of Mr. Greeley's friends, including Mr. Johnson, Mr. Cleveland, Mr. George Ripley, the Rev. Dr. Chapin, Prof. Guyot, Prof. Youmans, Prof. Seely, the Rev. O. B. Frothingham, F. B. Carpenter, most of these gentlemen being accompanied by their wives. There were no speeches or formality of any kind, but a number of letters were read, including the following:

LETTER FROM GEORGE W. CERTIS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28, 1872.

DEAR SIR: I am very much obliged by your kind invitation to meet Mr. Greeley upon his 61st birthday, and I am very sorry that my engagements here will deprive me of that pleasure.

Mr. Greeley like healess.

I am very sorry that my engagements here will deprive me of that pleasure.

Mr. Greeley's life has been passed in warm controversy of many kinds, and with many persons, but there was probably never so much difference with a man accompanied by so little personal ill-will toward him. The anniversory which you celebrate is the fit time to recall his great services to liberty and civilization in America; and the men and brethren who will heartly acknowledge them are the great multitude of his fellow citizens.

Although it may be his first birthday, we must not yet speak of his old age, for the man whom temperance and the cardinal virtues betriend will be a youth at three-score and ten. Very faithfully yours.

George William Curtis.

LETTER FROM JOHN G. WHITTIER.

MARLEGOR' HOTEL, BOSTON, Jan. 30, 1872.

DEAR PRIEND: I am truly sorry that I cannot be with you on the interesting occasion your note refers to. I have known Horace Greeley for more than 30 years. I have sometimes differed with him on public questions, but have never distrusted him, or for a moment doubted his faithfulness to his convictions. That on the whole be has been one of our greatest benefactors I have no doubt.
His TRIBUNE has been a liberal education. By example and precept he has taught leasons of temperance, selfreliance, industry, frugality and charity. He has uniformly taken the part of the poor, the suffering and enslaved. Wishing him many more years of honoracle usefulness, and thanking you for thinking of me in connection with the proposed tribute of respect on the occasion of his birthday, I am very truly your friend.

LETTER FROM O. W. HOLMES.

Dr. and Mrs. Helmes regret that it is not in their power to accept the polite invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson for Saturday evening. It would be a great pleasure to meet them and their honored guest on an occasion so full of interest. Mr. Greeley has reached a "grand climacteric" of deserved reputation, if not quite up to that epoch in years. He has made himself felt in journalism as one of the great powers of the time, and added a manly element to the thought of the people among whom he has passed a life of varied activity. If he has ever erred it has been in pursuit of an ideal object which it is better to miss than not to aim at. His vigor and courage, joined to the through the warm hearts of a great multitude would find themselves doing battle with the cold winds of Pebruary, as Mr. Greeley's enthusiasm has fought against the coldness and indifference of a world which he has helped to make warmer, truer, and better than he found it.

LETTER FROM SECRETARY FISH.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2, 1872.

MY DEAR MR. GREELEY: Although unable to accept a kind invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Johnson to join them in celebrating your 61st birthday, to-morrow, in New-York, I may be allowed to tender to you my sincere con gratulations on the anniversary, and very cordially to wish you many returns of the day, and to hope your future years may be as happy as those of the past have een active and useful. wish you many returns of the day, and to hope your future years may be as happy as those of the past have been active and useful. Believe me, very faithfully yours.

Hon. Horace Greeley, New-York.

LEFER FROM PRESIDENT HOPKINS.

MR. AND MRS. A. J. JOHNSON: Please accept the thanks of Mrs. Hopkins and myself for your invitation to be present at your house on the evening of Saturday, the 3d of February, to meet the Hon. Horace Greeley. You do well to honor Mr. Greeley. He has honored in many ways the institutions under which alone he could have come to be what he is. We should join you most heartily if my duties did not require my presence here. Very respectfully yours.

Williams College, Jan. 29, 1872.

Besides the above, there were also letters read from Prof. E. Hitcheock, Prof. H. C. Fisher, Prof. Charles Davies, Rhoda E. White, Ray Palmer, Gerrit Smith, and J. H. Barrett of The Cincinnati Times and Chronicle. At about 9 o'clock the rest of the company began to arrive, and remained until midnight. Several hundred porsons were present, and the ample parlors were soon crowded with animated talkers. The mantels and every other available spot were covered with rare flowers, whose exquisite fragrance filled the air. Several performers supplied instrumental music, while Miss Emma Abbout, the admirable soprano of Mr. Chapin's church, and Miss Margaret Cleaveland, niece of Mr. Groeley, sang several solow with much taste. Mr. Groeley received the congratulations of his many friends with natural pleasure, and was, of course, the lion of the evening.

Among the many noted persons present the names of only a few can be recalled, as follows: The Press was well represented by Murat Haistead of The Cincinnati Commercial, Bam Bowles of The Bringheld Republican, ex-Gov. Hawley of The Hartford Courart, with Whitelaw Reed, Oliver Johnson, George Ripley, Sam Sinclair, and others of the Tribinar, Professor Eggieston, D. O. C. Townley, Mr. S. R. A reception was given, last evening, at the residence of A. J. Johnson, esq., in Fifty-seventh-st., to Hon. Horace Greeley, on the completion of his sixty-dirat birthday. The reception was preceded by an elaborate dinner, at which the guests, besides Mr. Greeley and his hosts, were Rev. Drs. Chapin and Froth Ingham, George Ripiey, esq., F. B. Carpenter, the artist, J. F. Cleveland, esq., Prof. E. L. Youmans, Arnold Gayot, Roswell D. Hitchoock, J. Thomas, J. H. Seelye of Amberst College, and Mr. Oliver Johnson, all of these gentlemen being accompanied by their wives, and Mr. Cleveland by his daughter. The party had searcely left the table before the guests began to arrive. A largs number of invitations had been issued, each card containing a fine steel engraving of Mr. Greeley and a fac-simile of his characteristic autograph. Nearly all who were invited responded in person. There was secrely a social set, searcely, and better was secrety a social set, searcely, and political or professional interest in the Metropolis, which was not fully represented. There was no one there who knew everybody else, but they all knew the guest of the evening, and all seemed glad to do him honor. It was long after the time appointed for the close of the reception before the last guests reluctantly retired, with good wishes for the great fournalist. From The New-York Times.

THE BOARD OF AUDIT.

SETTLING OLD MUNICIPAL ACCOUNTS. SATURDAY'S MEETING-A QUESTION OF LAW-CLAIMS FOR OVER $500,000 PRESENTED.

The Board of Audit met at 2 p. m. ou Saturday, in the Controller's office, Controller Green in the chair. After the adoption of the minutes of the last meeting, Controller Green said: I have called this meet-ing thus early so that we may have time to comply with the second clause of the act which provides that "every bill, account, and claim presented to the Board, except for salaries and wages, shall be read aloud by the Clerk of the Board at the time of presentation; and the same shall lie on the table for five days thereafter, for objections." By this meeting two days will be gained. The claims to be submitted are urgent, and they come within the provision of the law, and if they are passed upon now it will be a great advantage.

Commissioner Van Nort-What are the claims which, in your opinion, come within the purview of the law ! Controller Green-They consist mainly of requirements for charitable institutions wherein there are from 15,000 to 18,000 inmates waiting for money to provide them with food. If these claims are all read we shall not get through before 10 o'clock to-night.

Commissioner Stebbins-I am of the opinion that it is innecessary to read in all its details every claim pre-Controller Green-I don't see how the claims can be audited unless they are read. Commissioner Van Nort-I think the claims should b read as follows: The name of the claim, the person making it, the description of it, and the amount it asks for. I deem that the object of this law is to satisfy the claims of creditors against the city, for the payment for materials furnished and those having claims for clerical work, in the shape of salaries. I don't think it is any part of the business of the Board to make objections to the provisions of the act. We have designated counsel to construe the law for us. It is for them to give an opinion whether we are doing anything that is outside of this law. I presume these gentlemen are fully com-petent to advise us. My desire is to expedite the business of the Board. The claims of these creditors should be acted upon as early as possible; there are large amounts of wages long due; many men are suffering very severely in consequence of this delay, and our only object ought to be to expedite the business that has been designated to our care by the Legislature. That ought to be our one object, and if needful we should meet day by day to receive and pass upon these claims. [Applause.]

Controller Green-Every member of the Board will, I think, agree with the remarks of Mr. Van Nort. I would go a little further even, and have gone a little further. by arranging for these claims to be read to-day. The Board at its last meeting designated counsel to give us the benefit of their judgment, so that we might know the benefit of their judgment, so that we might know what the law meant. The counsel must become familiar with the law, and that requires longer than a day. Before getting their opinion, I propose to proceed to-day, so that, if these claims are perfectly legal, we can pay them without waiting before we pass upon them until we get counsel's opinion, on Monday or Tuesday. I am only desirous that we shall act according to law in our endeavors to expedite the payment. My only hope is that I have done nothing without due consideration and with undue haste.

Commissioner Stebbins—I thoroughly concur in all that has been said by the Controller.

Commissioner Van Nort—Before we read these claims I would suggest that the representative of each city department be requested to forward at the earliest possible day all claims due in his own department, so that we may get them to pass upon at the earliest possible moment. My object is that all claims may be presented. Controller Green—I understood that was the object of the resolution at the last meeting. Claims are coming in every day.

every day.

Commissioner Van Nort—I understood that the resolution passed at the last meeting referred to the claims of this year. I move that the claims be read.

THE UNPAID CLAIMS.

SUMMARY OF THE VARIOUS DEMANDS AGAINST THE CITY AND COUNTY-OVER SIX MILLIONS DUE ON VARIOUS ACCOUNTS.

The interest excited by THE TRIBUNE's pubcation of the unpaid claims against the city and county to be submitted to the new Board of Audit, was amply evinced by the large attendance of tax-payers at the meetings of the Board. Annexed is a condensed statement of these unpaid bills, pay-rolls, claims, and miscelaneous accounts to be acted upon. These have heretofore appeared in detail in the columns of THE TRIBUNE, and are thus tabulated in order to show their extent.

In the case of unpaid contracts, where it is assume that the various amounts will be refunded by the owners of property assessed, the assumption is not entirely justi-fable.

The system of assessing, confirming, and publishing assessments has been very lax, and applications to the Supreme Court to vacate assessments are quite cemmon. When applications are granted and assessments annulled the entire contract price is paid by the City, and is then included in the proportion of taxes levied on the city at large. There is a regular business of certain lawyers, who get a percentage varying from 25 to 50 per cent, for securing the vacation of assessments, and it has been said that various street improvements have been inaugurated and irregularly assessed for the purpose of securing the percentage which tax payers have been willing to pay for relief.

It is said that the New-York Printing Company, now deceased, have claims amounting to $1,000,000, which they are withholding from the Board of Audit with the intention of presenting them a year hence, when they could dently look for a favorable change in public affairs.

Tax-payers must remember that these accounts are not those which have been paid, and upon which their money is irremediably lost, but are present realities awaiting action, and while there is yet time it devolves upon our citizens directly interested to scrutinize and object to their hasty payment.

MORE CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY. Among the bills noticed on Thursday was one of Mr. F. E. Towles, and remark was made upon its ning irregularity in charging for regulating, grading, curbing, guttering and flagging First-ave., from Ninety second st. to One-hundred and ninth st. The amount and character of the bill were published as taken from a schedule in the Auditing Bureau of the Department of Pinance. Since then it has been ascertained that Mr. Towle (who is a City Surveyor) made out his bill for a preliminary survey under the scale of prices allowed as compensation to Surveyors for work done under the Department of Public Works, as provided by ordinance. That he should be represented as claiming pay for grading, &c., is the fault of the Tammany system of book-keeping not yet abolished in the Finance Department.

THE BILLS OF THE JOURNEYMEN PRINTERS' CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sm: At the meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, the publication of claims against the city in your issue of Wednesday last was brought to our attention, and excited considerable surprise. The amount set opposite our name is so large, prise. The amount set opposite our name is so large, and our real claim so small, that the error is calculated to injure us. The entire work we have performed for the city from Sept. 29 to date amounts to only $942 59, for which bills have been rendered for only $135. The prices charged can also be shown to be only those usually paid by private parties.

New-York, Feb. 3, 1872. C. B. SMITH, Secretary.

(The error was typographical. On the books of the ontroller the Association is credited with $135 only .- Ed.]

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5-1 a. m.
Synopsis for the past twenty-four hours.

The area of lowest barometer, which was The area of lowest barometer, which was stauriary night on the New-Jersey shore, has noved north-eastward, and is probably now in Nova Scotia. Strong north-east winds with snow have attended this area of low pressure, but are now followed by light winds from the south and west; an area of low barometer has extended north-eastward over Texas, with threatening weather on the coast.

North-west winds, with anow, have prevailed on the lower lakes, and north-west winds, with cloudy weather, in Missouri. Auroras are reported visible at New-York and Mobile.

Probabilities. Light winds from the south-east will probably increase in force during Monday from the South Atlantic coast westward, with threatening and rainy weather west of tabanca.

Arkansas; rising barometer, with cold north-west winds, prevail from Michigan westward; the low barometer on Lake Huron move east and north-eastward, with south-west winds over and threatening weather Virginia and New-England.

Dangerous winds are not anticipated for the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, except possibly for Texas.

THE JAPANESE EMBASSY SNOW BOUND. SALT LAKE, Feb. 4.-Minister De Long and the Japanese Embassy, arrived here this morning, having been escorted from Ogden by a delegation of the city authorities, headed by Mayor Wells. They came by special train and took quarters at the Townsend House special train and took quarters at the Townsend House which has been througed ever since. Much disappoint ment is expressed by the Embassy at finding it impossible to proceed East. The snow blockade, it is thought, will involve the loss of millions of ideliars to the transcontinental route, by diverting, through the report of the Japanese, most of the winter travel and trade to ocean routes. The Japanese themselves are discontented with the delay, as they and Minister De Long started from California with the understanding that the road was open. Brigham Young sent an invitation to the Embassy to call on him, but it is understood that Japanese etiquette will require Brigham to call on them arst, if courtesies are to be exchanged.

WHY PETER B. SWEENY FLED TO!CANADA-HIS PERCENTAGE OF THE RING PLUNDER.

Sufficient evidence, it is believed, has been laid before the General Sessions Grand Jury to convict Peter B. Sweeny of having received a handsome share of the plunder which was divided among the Ring rogues. The Thibune published, nearly two months ago, the announcement that about 10 per cent of the amount of the Special Audit bills was traced to James M. Sweeny through an investigation of his bank account At the time it was generally believed that Peter B. Sweeny had not derived any benefit from it, although he was supposed to have been cognizant of his brother's operations, and tacitly to have allowed them. But it now appears to be proved that while the money was re ceived by James M. Sweeny, it was invested in property in the name of Peter B. Sweeny. The latter thereby netted 10 per cent on $5,800,000, the amount of the Speci Audit bills, thus obtaining the satisfactory sum of $550,000 as his percentage on three months' spoils.

MURDEROUS ASSAULTS. A wedding party was held last night in the lagor-beer saloon of Christian Reick, at No. 209 East Twenty-eighth-st. A row occurred during the evening in which Frank Sprader of No. 151 Third-ave., was beater on the head with a club by Reick and severely wounded. Beick was arrested and locked up. Charles Hebbard of No. 157 East Fifty-first-st., while Charles Hobbard of No. 15? East FHTy-Brat-st., while sleigh-riding last evening in Central Park, quarreled with an unknown man. The two came to blows, when the unknown man shot Hebbard, the ball entering under the right arm-pit, causing a dangerous wound. The assailant them leaped into his sleigh and escaped. Hebbard was attended by a surgeon and taken home.

The New-England Society has long been noted in New-York for heavy dinners and admirable speech-making. It has at last, in its 68th year, reached the age of discretion, and so learned that its entertain ments would be the better for the presence of New-England women. The first ladies' reception in its history is, therefore, to be given next Tuesday evening at Del monico's, and tickets, which are to be had of any member of the committee, or of Mr. Charles W. Griswold, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, are in great demand. The en tertainment promises to be one of the pleasantest socia events of this brilliant social season.
